Observations on the Courses of Study.

In the selection and arrangement of the studies in the different Courses, the following objects have been kept steadily in view: First, and by far the most important of all, To secure a full and harmonious development of all the mental faculties. Second, To furnish the student with the first principles, and an intelligent outline at least, of those branches of knowledge with which every well-educated man should be to some extent acquainted. Third, To impart, so far as possible, general information, and especially on those subjects popularly called practical. That, however, has been deemed eminently practical which will secure the greatest discipline and the highest culture. The chief object has been, therefore, to bring into exercise, in due proportion, all the faculties, and thus secure the highest degree of mental power. In this way the student will become prepared to grapple successfully with the most important questions, to acquire knowledge readily, and to use it to good advantage.

THE CLASSICAL COURSE

Is substantially the same as that of the oldest and most reputable American colleges, and that which long experience has shown to be the best adapted to secure a thorough liberal education. It is recommended in preference to any other.

The degree of "Bachelor of Arts" is conferred upon those who satisfactorily complete this Course.

THE SCIENTIFIC COURSE

Is designed to meet the wants of those who have not the time or means to pursue so long a Course as the Classical. It covers four years, and embraces, besides the Scientific Branches, two years in Latin, and also German and French. This Course of Study, while it is not so complete as the Classical, is yet fully equal to any Scientific Course pursued in our best institutions.

The degree of "Bachelor of Science" is conferred upon all those who satisfactorily complete this Course.

THE BIBLICAL COURSE

Has been arranged for the benefit of young men preparing for the ministry. Commencing with the Sophomore Year, it runs parallel with the other two Courses, in some cases taking the place of other studies, and in other cases requiring a little extra study. It is intended to lay a good foundation for subsequent study in Theology, and to furnish so much practical knowledge as will enable the young minister to begin his work to good advantage.

THE NORMAL COURSE

Is intended to qualify the student for the practical work of teaching. A class is organized at the beginning of each Term, and a Course of Preparatory Lectures given; and for attendance at these lectures the students receive marks of merit the same as are given in other departments. In the more advanced Course, the students of the class are required, under the supervision of the Professor, to conduct the recitations alternately, and each lesson, as well as the method of the teacher conducting the same, is subjected to review and criticism. By these means it is thought that the best discipline of the Normal School may be attained. This department is under the charge of the Professor of Belles-lettres and History.

Terms of Admission.

For admission to the Freshman Class, the student will be thoroughly examined on all the studies of the two Preparatory Years, and must be at least fourteen years old.

To be admitted to the Scientific Freshman Class, the student must be at least fourteen years old, and be able to pass a good examination on English Grammar, Outlines of English Composition, Modern Geography, Arithmetic, Loomis's Algebra, and Latin Grammar and Cæsar.

N. B.—No one can be admitted who is not well prepared, as above specified.

Candidates for advanced standing will be examined on all the studies of the Course preceding, and no one will be admitted later than the beginning of the Senior Year.

Ladies are admitted to the College Classes on the same condition as gentlemen.

BIBLICAL STUDIES.

Hebrew, and New Testament Greek.

Principles of Interpretation, with exercises in Greek and Hebrew Exegesis.

Systematic and Practical Theology.

Church History.

The above, running through the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior Years, are conducted by recitations and lectures.

In the Classical Course, Hebrew may be substituted for French throughout, and New Testament Greek for the Classic during portions of the Junior and Senior Years.

In the Scientific Course, Greek may take the place of Latin, and Hebrew the place of French, throughout.

Surveying and Mensuration, in the First Term of the Sophomore Year, may be omitted for an equivalent in Biblical Studies.

Only those who propose to take the entire Biblical Course will be allowed to make the above substitutions.

ELECTIVE STUDIES.

In addition to the elections allowed in the Biblical Course, the students in the Classical Course may choose any two of the optional studies of the Second and Third Terms of the Junior Year, namely: Latin, Greek, and Mathematics.

ECLECTIC COURSE.

Students, who desire so to do, can select out of the Classical and Scientific Courses such studies as they may, by previous training, be prepared to pursue, taking the studies in the order in which they are laid down. But, in all cases, students are advised to take one of the Courses regularly, even if they may not be able to complete it. The great object of education will be best secured in this way.

WEEKLY RECITATIONS.

In addition to the daily recitations, every student recites weekly in Elocution, Oratory, English Composition, or Rhetoric.

During the First and Second Terms, on Saturday of each week, the Senior Class, and during the Third Term the Junior Class, deliver original orations in public.

ANNUAL AND SESSIONAL EXERCISES.

Close of the First Term.—Literary exercises of the Junior Class.

PROFESSORSHIPS.

THE Studies in the preceding Courses are distributed among the following Professorships:

I. Mental and Moral Science.

REUBEN ANDRUS, D. D.

CHRISTIAN EVIDENCES. The text-books laid down in the Course are intended only as guides. The effort is to stimulate to thought and inquiry. Topical recitations, discussions, and familar lectures occupy the daily hour in the recitation-room.

BOOKS OF REFERENCE.—Cousin's Psychology, Stewart's Active and Moral Powers, Hamilton's Lectures, Paley's Philosophy, Diamond's Essays, Lewes's Biographical History of Philosophy, M'Intosh's History of Ethical Science, and Bain's Moral Science.

| THIRD TERM, . . . . . | Butler's Analogy. |

II. Natural Science.

JOSEPH TINGLEY, PH. D.

THIS department embraces Chemistry, Natural Philosophy, Physiology, Astronomy, Botany, Zoölogy, Mineralogy, and Geology. The student in Chemistry is first made familiar with the properties, names, and symbols of the elements, and with the general principles and laws of the science, by lectures, a full course of experiment, and the use of the text-book. He is then admitted to the Laboratory, and is required to complete an Elementary Course of Qualitative Analysis.

Natural Philosophy is taught principally by Lectures. A well-assorted suite of Apparatus furnishes the means for illustrating all the more interesting truths and laws of the science, excepting those requiring very expensive instruments.

The other branches of Natural Science are taught in part by the use of text-books, and in part by Lectures.

Private instruction given in Analytical, Pharmaceutical, and Agricultural Chemistry.

III. The Greek Language and Literature.

PHILANDER WILEY, D. D.

The design, in this department, is to give thorough instruction in the fundamental principles and structure of the Language, and to render familiar the Literature of the different periods.

Constant attention is required to Accent, Grammar, Syntax, Greek-English and English-Greek translations.

The following books of reference are especially recommended:

Kühner, Hadley, Curtius, and Crosby's Grammars, Liddell and Scott's Greek-English Lexicon, Dwight's Mythology, Smith's Ancient Geography with Long's Atlas, Grote's History, Smith's Dictionary of Antiquities, and Yonge's English-Greek Lexicon.

A class is taught in New Testament Greek, in extra-collegiate hours.

Instruction will be afforded also in Sanskrit, in extra-collegiate hours.

IV. Biblical Literature.

REUBEN ANDRUS, D. D.

This is, at present, under the care of the President, aided by the other members of the Faculty. While it is designed mainly for students looking to the ministry, it also, by recitations and lectures, reaches the other members of the College Classes. The Chair will soon be filled by a permanent Professor.

In this department, instruction will be given in Systematic Divinity, Hebrew Grammar, Hebrew Translation and Exegesis, New Testament Greek and Exegesis, Biblical Archæology, and Homiletics.

Opportunity for instruction in the Spanish and Italian Languages, as optional studies, will be afforded by the Professor of Latin. For those who desire to become proficient in the same, the following Course has been arranged:

SPANISH.—Salkeld's First Book in Spanish, Colmena Española, Lope de Vega y Calderon—Obras Maestras.

ITALIAN.—Cuore's or Fontana's Italian Grammar.

La Rosa Dell' Alpi, La Fiera.

VI. Belles-Lettres and History.

JOHN CLARK RIDPATH, A. M.

FROM this Chair are taught English Composition, Ancient and Modern History, the Anglo-Saxon and English Languages and Literatures, Logic, Rhetoric, Political Economy, History of Civilization, and International Law. The recitations are conducted by Topics. The student is expected so to analyze and master the subject as to be able to recite without the formality of questions. In Rhetoric and Logic, practice as well as theory is required.

Especial attention is given throughout the Course to Criticism in English. The student is at all times encouraged to employ English idioms and English methods of thought, in preference to those which are foreign. In literary discussion, as well as in the Lectures on the Philosophy of History, comparisons and parallels are drawn, as far as practicable, from the Literature, Politics, and History of the Anglo-Saxon race, in preference to the nations of antiquity. In the logical and rhetorical praxis of the Course, every effort is made to render those studies of practical utility to the student in shaping his modes of thought and expression.

VII. Modern Languages and Hebrew.

JOHN E. EARP, A. M.

In this, the German Language especially receives a large share of attention, and is not only theoretically taught, but also spoken with the pupils. The students receive, also, lectures on both the German and French Literatures, and the history of the two languages. Extra Classes in German and French are formed during the Junior and Senior Years, for the benefit of those who wish to pursue these studies beyond the required Course. The Hebrew Grammar will be thoroughly studied one year, and the Bible one. A class will be formed in Swedish or Sanskrit, whenever a demand is made by students sufficiently advanced.

LECTURES.

BESIDES those given in the Course of Study, Lectures will be delivered to the students generally:

I. By the members of the Faculty:

1. On subjects of general interest in their respective departments.
2. On College Life and Study.
3. On the Laws of Health.
4. On Habits and Manners.
5. On the Theory and Practice of Business.
6. On Popular Science.

II. By distinguished scientific and practical men, not connected with the Faculty, on some or all of the following topics:

1. On Constitutional Law.
2. On Commercial Law.
3. On Agriculture.
4. On the Mechanic Arts.
5. On Banking.

The Second Class of Lectures is preliminary to the opening of departments, so soon as the funds will admit, for thorough instruction in those useful and practical branches of knowledge.

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS.

DAILY AND WEEKLY ROUTINE.

THE exercises of each day will begin with religious services in the College Chapel, commencing at a quarter before eight in the morning. Recitations commence at eight A. M., one hour being devoted to each study. Every student is required to recite not less than three nor more than four lessons daily, excepting Saturday and Sunday.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES are held in the College Chapel on Sunday afternoon, consisting of a series of Lectures by the members of the Faculty, designed especially for the moral and religious education of the student. All are required to attend.

On Sunday morning, the students are required to attend public worship at such churches as they or their parents may select, and it is expected that each student be uniform in his attendance at the church of his choice.

Prayer and class meetings are regularly held for those who wish to attend.

GOVERNMENT.

THE Government of the Institution is vested in the Faculty, and in all cases involves the principles usually known as the Parental. It constantly assumes the moral sense of the student, and relies upon his sense of right, and his disposition to do right, for its efficiency; yet, if in any case these fail, it has the means at hand to correct the evil.

Whenever a student has entered College, he is regarded as subject to all its laws till his connection is formally closed, either by graduation or otherwise; and no student will be allowed to absent himself from College, either at the beginning of a Term, or at any other time, except by express permission of the Faculty, and, in the case of a minor, by written permission of his parent or guardian, obtained before the absence occurs.

REQUIREMENTS AND PROHIBITIONS.—Punctual and regular attendance at recitation, at public College exercises, at prayers and at Church, and observance of study hours, are required of every student. Ungentlemanly treatment of fellow-students or citizens; disrespect toward the Faculty; irreverence at church; amusements, visits of pleasure, gathering in groups, and noise in rooms on Sunday; smoking in the College buildings; absence from room at night on any account, except to attend the sick, later than ten o'clock; loud conversation, loud laughing, wrestling, jumping, or other unnecessary noise in the College building or campus; leaving town without the knowledge and consent of the President; contracting debts without the knowledge and consent of parents or guardians; disorderly deportment at boarding-houses or elsewhere; permitting disorder in a room by any person whatever; writing upon, or otherwise defacing, the College building or furniture; using obscene or profane language; wearing fire-arms or other weapons; visiting circuses or theaters; card-playing and gambling of every kind; visiting drinking, billiard, or gambling saloons; drinking intoxicating liquors, or even keeping them in room or elsewhere; and all other breaches of good morals or good order, are strictly and totally prohibited.

No student habitually violating any of the rules of the Institution, or who will persist in any criminal practices and indulgences, will be allowed to remain at the Institution.

MERIT ROLL.

All absences from recitation, prayers, lectures, and church, his deportment and his average standing as a student in each department of study, are placed in a record prepared for that purpose, and at the end of each Term—and at other times, if desired—an abstract of this record is sent to the parents or guardians of such as are minors. The standard of perfection, whether in scholarship, punctuality, or deportment, is one hundred.

EXAMINATIONS.

At the close of each Term, all classes of that Term are examined upon their studies in the presence of the Examining Committees appointed for that purpose. The Examinations are public. Every student must attend the Examinations.

The Annual Examinations will be upon the studies of the entire Year, and the closing Examination of the Senior Class upon the entire Course.

Candidates for Class Standing, other than those who have regularly pursued their studies at the Institution, are required to pass special Examinations, either at the beginning or ending of a Term, no one being eligible to such Examination who has not paid the Contingent Fee for that Term.

THE EARP PRIZE.

Through the liberality of Rev. Joseph Earp, of the Southern Illinois Conference, a prize was offered, last year, for excellence in declamation; which a committee, selected by the Faculty of the University, awarded to George Hodson, of the Junior Class.

COMMENCEMENT.

The last week of the Third Term is appropriated to the closing exercises of the Year, including the Annual Examinations, the Literary Performances of the Societies, the Reunion and Literary Exercises of the Society of Alumni, the Baccalaureate Sermon, Annual Lecture, and the Graduating Exercises of the Senior Class.

MISCELLANEOUS

LOCATION.

The Indiana Asbury University is located at Greencastle, forty miles west of Indianapolis, at the intersection of the Terre Haute and Richmond, Indianapolis and St. Louis Railroads with the New Albany and Chicago Railroad.

The country about Greencastle is rolling, well timbered, well watered, fertile, and beautiful. The place is believed to be one of the most healthy west of the Alleghany Mountains. The people are intelligent, moral, and religious.

ENDOWMENT.

An attempt to endow the Institution, in its earlier history, by the sale of perpetual Scholarships at $500 each, and of limited Scholarships for sums varying with the number of years for which they were issued, having proved but partially successful, in 1844 a plan for permanent endowment, by the sale of perpetual Scholarships at $100 each, was projected. Efficient agents were appointed to carry out the plan. Up to the close of the year 1858, there had been collected, in cash and notes, for permanent endowment, about $75,000, of which over $67,000 have been profitably invested. Centenary donations added about $60,000 to this amount. In 1871, Robert Stockwell, Esq., of Lafayette, Ind., gave $25,000 for the endowment of a Professorship. The Trustees, in honor of the generous donor, have selected Professor Wiley's Chair, and called it the "Robert Stockwell Chair of the Greek Language and Literature." Last year Robert Stockwell added to his former munificent gift $27,000. Means which promise success are still employed for steadily increasing the endowment.

THE NEW BUILDING.

The new College-building, the plan and specifications for which were furnished by Mr. J. A. Vrydagh, Architect, of Terre Haute, is, as may be inferred from the cut inserted in the Catalogue, a convenient, elegant, and tasteful structure, one hundred and twenty-six feet in length by ninety-four in width, four stories high, finished with Mansard roof, and ornamented by three handsome towers, showing variety and harmony in design and appearance.

The first story, or basement, contains seven rooms, twelve feet high, besides halls and furnace-rooms.

The second story, sixteen feet in height, is occupied by the halls of the three literary societies, and three recitation-rooms, with halls and reception-room.

The third floor is occupied mainly by the Chapel, fifty-four feet wide by ninety feet long, and forty-two feet high, with self-supporting gallery extending around three sides of the room. When finished, the Chapel will accommodate about fifteen hundred persons, and will be one of the most elegant audience-rooms in the West.

The fourth story comprises a suite of rooms that are eligible for library, cabinet, and recitation purposes, as the wants of the University may demand.

When completed, the actual cost of the building will be about $110,000. Thus far, about $75,000 have been expended.

Honorable mention is due to Jesse Meharry, Esq., of Shawnee Mound, Ind., for his liberal donation of $10,000 to the Building Fund; in recognition of which, the Board of Trustees, at their last regular meeting, ordered that the Chapel should hereafter be known and designated as "Meharry Hall."

Early in this year, a Friend of Asbury proposed to give $1,000 if the new building could be occupied for Commencement Exercises. This proposition was promptly responded to by the Hon. W. C. DePauw, of New Albany, by a donation of $3,000, thereby insuring the occupancy of "Meharry Hall" for the Commencement of 1874.

In addition to the above, A. M. Lockridge, Esq., of Greencastle, has subscribed $3,000 to the Building Fund. Mrs. Senator Lane and sisters, of Crawfordsville, have furnished the means to finish the Young Ladies' Society Hall, in honor of the memory of their father, Major Isaac Elston, formerly a member of the Board of Trustees. Colonel John W. Ray, of the Class of '48, has met the expense of finishing the Latin recitation-room; and C. W. Smith, Esq., Class of '67, has contributed similarly for one of the suite of rooms to be occupied by the Department of Natural Science. Especial mention is also due D. L. Southard, Esq., resident Trustee, and member of the Building Committee, for his faithful, efficient, and disinterested labors, in superintending, directing, and advancing the progress of the work, and for his invaluable services in providing ways and means to continue the work, and without whose aid the new building would not, by any means, have been so nearly ready for occupancy.

SCHOLARSHIPS.

Perpetual Scholarships, granting the right of tuition to the purchaser, his son or grandson, or any person selected by him, under certain restrictions, may be yet secured by paying to the Treasurer or Agent the sum of one hundred dollars for each Scholarship.

Scholarships conveying similar privileges for six years may be had for thirty dollars; twelve years for fifty dollars.

In the use of these Scholarships, any other person than the son or grandson of the original purchaser must present a written certificate from the owner that no compensation therefor is received or expected from the student or his friends.

The design is thus to secure free tuition to every student of limited means; and it is believed that this field of benevolent enterprise is worthy the attention of all persons able to purchase, for so small a sum, the "franking privilege" of the University. As Scholarships continue to be sold, and donations and bequests flow into the treasury, all the departments of a university education will doubtless be thus made, in effect, free to all. Scholarships for ladies can be purchased on the same terms as for gentlemen.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the University, accessible to students, number, in the aggregate, about ten thousand volumes.

The Whitcomb Library, the noble bequest of the late Governor Whitcomb, is an exceedingly valuable collection of books in every department of literature, having been selected by the lamented governor, in his latter years, with the greatest care and discrimination. It numbers four thousand five hundred volumes, and is carefully arranged and preserved in a room devoted to this Library alone.

The College Circulating Library contains over three thousand well-selected volumes, mostly purchased with funds donated for that purpose.

The Libraries of the Literary Societies consist of selections made from time to time by the Society authorities, and purchased with funds derived partly from donations and partly from sessional revenues, it being the aim to devote annually a portion of the revenue to the continual improvement of the Libraries.

APPARATUS AND CABINET.

The Philosophical and Chemical Apparatus, though not of the most expensive kind, is sufficient for the illustration of the more important principles of Experimental Philosophy. It includes the usual Apparatus of the Laboratory, a fine Achromatic Telescope, by Fitz, of New York, of four and one-half inches aperture; complete sets of Polarizing Apparatus; Meteorological, Electrical, and Magnetical Apparatus, of the most approved and effective forms; and various instruments for illustration in Optics and Thermotics.

An excellent Level, Surveyor's Compass, etc., furnish the necessary instruments for Practical Surveying and Engineering.

The Dowling Cabinet—the gift of the late Dr. Dowling, of New Albany—is of itself an extensive and valuable collection of Minerals and Fossils. Combined, as it is, with a large collection of specimens, obtained by donation and exchange, the whole Cabinet furnishes much valuable aid in the studies of Mineralogy and Geology.

SOCIETIES.

There are four Literary Societies in connection with the University: The Platonean, organized in 18—: library, one thousand volumes. The Philological, organized in 18—; library, one thousand volumes. The Philomathean, organized in 18—, consists exclusively of ladies; library, about five hundred volumes. The Atlantis, organized in 1873, consists of ladies and gentlemen, all of whom are members of the regular University classes; has as yet only the beginning of a library. The Theosophian is strictly a "Society of Religious Inquiry." Its object is to provide facilities for theological discussion, also to promote true religious experience.

These societies meet statedly for literary and oratorical improvement. The societies are under the general supervision of the Faculty; but in all the details of practical work their exercises are under their own control.

☞ All Fees to be paid in advance.

BOARDING.

No arrangements for boarding students are made by the Institution. Boarding is readily obtained in private families at as moderate rates as circumstances will allow, and varying according to the expensiveness of living, from $3.50 to $4.50 per week. In many cases, students board themselves. They rent a room suitably furnished, or sometimes furnish it themselves, and in this way reduce the expenses of boarding to two dollars and fifty cents, and in some instances to one dollar and fifty cents per week. No student will be allowed to board at a public house.

N. B.—Several clubs have been organized, in which many have boarded well for about $2.25 per week, and with but little trouble.

INCIDENTAL EXPENSES.

THE cost of clothing, traveling, etc., will vary considerably with the circumstances and habits of the student. A strict economy is best for all. As a general estimate, it may be stated that the whole expense of a young man in the University need not exceed from $200 to $300 per annum. All above the latter amount, it is believed, is very often worse than thrown away.

Parents having minor sons at the University are earnestly requested to select some friend in Greencastle to receive and disburse the money necessary for their support. If parents intrust it to their sons, they should not complain if it be squandered, or if consequences even more serious should ensue. The utmost vigilance on the part of the Faculty is insufficient to prevent the evils in question. These can be prevented only by putting the means of indulgence into the hands of a trusty friend, who will render regularly an account to the parent.

Preparatory Department.

This department is designed to give thorough preparation for the College Classes, and is under the care and supervision of the Faculty, aided by competent tutors. Candidates for this department must be at least twelve years old, and well grounded in the general principles of Modern Geography, English Grammar, and Arithmetic, in addition to Reading, Writing, and Orthography. Ample facilities are furnished to the students in this department for improvement in Composition and Declamation.

Terms of Admission.

Applicants for admission to the Freshman Class must be at least fourteen years old, and pass a satisfactory examination on all the studies of the Preparatory Course.

Candidates for advanced standing will be examined on the preparatory studies, and also on those previously pursued by the classes which they purpose to enter, or in other studies equivalent to them.

Students applying for admission to the College Department, shall present to the Treasurer certificates of promotion by the Faculty, or of examination from the Principal of the Preparatory Department.

No one will be admitted later than the beginning of the Senior Year.

Entering the University will be considered a pledge to obey its rules and conform to its regulations.

Students preparing for the Freshman Class elsewhere than in the Preparatory School in connection with the University, will take notice that the requirements of the Revised Courses will hereafter be insisted on, which are as follows:

Latin.—Latin Grammar, Cæsar's Commentaries, Virgil's Æneid, Latin Prose Composition.

Greek.—First Book in Greek, Greek Grammar, Xenophon's Anabasis, Exercises in Greek Prose Composition.

Mathematics.—Higher Arithmetic completed, and Algebra.

English.—English Grammar, Test Spelling, Composition and Rhetoric, Book-keeping, Phonography, and Drawing.

Natural Science.—Physiology, Elements of Natural Philosophy, and Geography of the Heavens.

Observations on the Courses of Study.

In the selection and arrangement of the studies in the different Courses, the following objects have been kept steadily in view: First, and by far the most important of all, To secure a full and harmonious development of all the mental faculties. Second, To furnish the student with the first principles, and an intelligent outline at least, of those branches of knowledge with which every well-educated man should be to some extent acquainted. Third, To impart, so far as possible, general information, and especially on those subjects popularly called practical. That, however, has been deemed eminently practical which will secure the greatest discipline and the highest culture. The chief object has been, therefore, to bring into exercise, in due proportion, all the faculties, and thus secure the highest degree of mental power. In this way the student will become prepared to grapple successfully with the most important questions, to acquire knowledge readily, and to use it to good advantage.

THE CLASSICAL COURSE

Is, in all respects, substantially the same as that of the oldest and most reputable American colleges.

It embraces within its scope those branches of study which long experience has shown to be best adapted to secure a symmetrical mental development and liberal attainments in education. It is recommended in preference to any other.

The degree of Bachelor of Arts will be conferred upon those who satisfactorily complete this Course.

THE PHILOSOPHICAL COURSE

Has been framed on the basis of the former Scientific Course, and embraces a more extended study in Natural Science, Latin, and Modern Languages. The amount of time necessary to complete it is now equivalent to that required in the Classical Course.

The degree of Bachelor of Philosophy will be conferred upon all who satisfactorily complete this course.

THE BIBLICAL COURSE

Has been arranged for the benefit of young men preparing for the ministry. Commencing with the Sophomore Year, it runs parallel with the Classical and Philosophical Courses; and by the system of substitutions given below, affords the Theological student an extended Course in Hebrew, Patristic and New Testament Greek, Biblical Chronology, Archæology, Church History, etc.

ECLECTIC COURSE.

Students who desire so to do, can select out of the Classical and Philosophical Courses such studies as they may, by previous training, be prepared to pursue, taking the studies in the order in which they are laid down.

But no student will take a study to which he has not been regularly assigned, or discontinue the same without good cause shown, and consent from the Faculty. Students, however, are advised to take one of the Courses regularly, even if they may not be able to complete it, for in this way the great object of education will be best secured.

THE NORMAL COURSE

Is intended to qualify the student for the practical work of teaching. A class is organized at the beginning of the Second Term, and a Course of Preparatory Lectures given; and for attendance at these lectures the students receive marks of merit the same as are given in other departments. In the more advanced Course, the students of the class are required, under the supervision of the Professor, to conduct the recitations alternately, and each lesson, as well as the method of the teacher conducting the same, is subjected to review and criticism. By these means it is thought that the best discipline of the Normal School may be attained. This department is under the charge of the Professor of Belles-Lettres and History.

SUBSTITUTIONS.

In the Sophomore Year, Hebrew and Christian Evidences may be substituted for Mathematics.

In the First Term of the Junior Year, Patristic Greek may be substituted for Classical Greek. In the Second Term, Church History and Latin Hymns for Natural Philosophy. In the Third Term, New Testament Exegesis and Homiletics for Mechanics.

In the Senior Year, Pastoral Theology may be substituted for Classical Greek or Civil Engineering; and in the Second and Third Terms, Systematic Divinity for Modern Languages.

Only those who purpose to take the entire Biblical Course will be allowed to make the above substitutions.

ELECTIVE STUDIES.

In the Second Term of the Junior Year, students may elect Mechanics or Greek; and in the Third Term, Mechanics or French.

WEEKLY RECITATIONS.

In addition to the daily recitations, every student recites weekly in Elocution, Oratory, English Composition, or Rhetoric.

During the First and Second Terms, on Friday of each week, the Senior Class, and during the Third Term the Junior Class, deliver original orations in public.

ANNUAL AND SESSIONAL EXERCISES.

Close of the First Term.—Literary exercises of the Junior Class.

Close of the Second Term.—Literary exercises of the Sophomore Class.

Close of Each Term.—Public Examination of Classes.

Close of Third Term.—Anniversary exercises of the Literary Societies. Graduating exercises of the Senior Class.

PROFESSORSHIPS.

THE Studies in the preceding Courses are distributed among the following Professorships:

I. Mental and Moral Science.

REUBEN ANDRUS, D. D.

The text-books laid down in the Course are intended only as Guides. The effort is to stimulate to thought and inquiry. Topical recitations, discussions, and familiar lectures occupy the daily hour in the recitation-room.

BOOKS OF REFERENCE.—Cousin's Psychology, Stewart's Active and Moral Powers, Hamilton's Lectures, Paley's Philosophy, Diamond's Essays, Lewes's Biographical History of Philosophy, M'Intosh's History of Ethical Science, and Bain's Moral Science.

V. Belles-Lettres and History.

JOHN CLARK RIDPATH, A. M.

FROM this Chair are taught English Composition, History of the United States, Outlines of Ancient and Modern History, the Anglo-Saxon and English Languages and Literatures, Logic, Rhetoric, Political Economy, History of Civilization, and International Law. The Recitations are conducted by Topics. The student is expected so to analyze and master the subject as to be able to recite without the formality of questions. In Rhetoric and Logic, practice as well as theory is required.

Especial attention is given throughout the Course to Criticism in English. The student is at all times encouraged to employ English idioms and English methods of thought, in preference to those which are foreign. In literary discussion, as well as in the Lectures on the Philosophy of History, comparisons and parallels are drawn, as far as practicable, from the Literature, Politics, and History of the Anglo-Saxon race in preference to the nations of antiquity. In the logical and rhetorical praxis of the Course, every effort is made to render those studies of practical utility to the student in shaping his modes of thought and expression.

VI. Modern Languages and Hebrew.

JOHN E. EARP, A. M.

IN this the German Language especially receives a large share of attention, and is not only theoretically taught, but also spoken with the pupils. The students receive, also, lectures on both the German and French Literatures, and the history of the two languages. Extra classes in German and French are formed, during the Junior and Senior Years, for the benefit of those who wish to pursue these studies beyond the required Course. The Hebrew Grammar and Bible will be thoroughly studied one year. A class will be formed in Swedish or Sanskrit, whenever a demand is made by students sufficiently advanced.

VII. Mathematics.

PATTERSON M'NUTT, A. M.

THE methods of instruction in this department are varied as much as the nature of an exact science will allow, in order to fully develop the diversified capabilities of the students. The ordinary routine of recitation is relieved by frequent reviews, lectures, and discussions. Effort is made to acquaint the student with principles rather than with rules,—to cultivate his reason rather than his memory. The second term of the Senior Year is devoted to lectures and discussions upon such branches of Mathematics as the wants of each class may determine.

A more extended course of instruction will be afforded those desiring to make Mathematics a specialty. Such classes will be heard in extra-collegiate hours.

Books of Reference.—Davies' and Peck's Dictionary of Mathematics, Davies' Logic of Mathematics, Bartlett's Mechanics, Buckingham's Calculus, Newton's Principia.

VIII. Biblical Literature.

The duties of this Professorship are, for the present, under the care of the President, aided by other members of the Faculty. It has been so organized that young men looking to the ministry, who desire to avail themselves of its advantages, may do so by the system of substitutions allowed between the Biblical and Classical Courses.

By reference to this Course, as presented elsewhere, it will be observed as laying a good foundation in Theological attainments, and such as will enable the young minister to enter upon the duties of his work to good advantage.

The work of this Chair for the ensuing year has been distributed as follows:

Dr. Andrus, . . . Systematic Divinity.
Dr. Wiley, . . . Pastoral Theology, Homiletics, New Testament and Patristic Greek.
Dr. Rogers, . . . Church History and Latin Hymns.
Prof. Earp, . . . Hebrew, Old Testament Literature, Archæology, and Christian Evidences.

Miscellaneous.

DAILY AND WEEKLY ROUTINE.

The exercises of each day will begin with religious services in the College Chapel, commencing at a quarter before eight in the morning. Recitations commence at eight A. M., one hour being devoted to each study. Every student is required to recite not less than three nor more than four lessons daily, excepting Saturday and Sunday.

Religious Services are held in the College Chapel on Sunday afternoon, consisting of a series of Lectures by the members of the Faculty, designed especially for the moral and religious education of the student. All are required to attend.

On Sunday morning, the students are required to attend public worship at such churches as they or their parents may select, and it is expected that each student be uniform in his attendance at the church of his choice.

Prayer and class-meetings are regularly held for those who wish to attend.

GOVERNMENT.

The Government of the Institution is vested in the Faculty, and is such as arises out of the peculiar nature and relations of a University. It constantly assumes the moral sense of the student, and relies upon his sense of right, and his disposition to do right, for its efficiency; yet, if in any case these fail, it has the means at hand to correct the evil.

Whenever a student has entered College, he is subject to all its laws till his connection is formally closed, either by graduation or otherwise; and no student will be allowed to absent himself from College, either at the beginning of a Term, or at any other time, except by express permission of the Faculty, and, in the case of a minor, by written permission of his parent or guardian, obtained before the absence occurs.

Requirements and Prohibitions.—Punctual and regular attendance at recitation, at public College exercises, at prayers and at church, and observance of study hours, are required of every student. Ungentlemanly treatment of fellow-students or citizens; disrespect toward the Faculty; irreverence at church; desecration of the Sabbath; smoking in the College buildings; absence from room at night on any account, except to attend the sick, later than ten o'clock; loud conversation, loud laughing, wrestling, jumping, or other unnecessary noise in the College building or campus; leaving town without the knowledge and consent of the President; contracting debts without the knowledge and consent of parents or guardians; disorderly deportment at boarding-houses or elsewhere; permitting disorder in a room by any person whatever; writing upon, or otherwise defacing, the College building or furniture; using obscene or profane language; wearing fire-arms or other weapons; visiting circuses or theaters; card-playing and gambling of every kind; visiting drinking, billiard, or gambling saloons; drinking intoxicating liquors, or even keeping them in room or elsewhere; and all other breaches of good morals or good order, are strictly and totally prohibited.

No student habitually violating any of the rules of the Institution, or who will persist in any criminal practices and indulgences, will be allowed to remain at the Institution.

MERIT ROLL.

All absences from recitation, prayers, lectures, and church, his deportment, and his average standing as a student in each department of study, are placed in a record prepared for that purpose, and at the end of each Term—and at other times, if desired—an abstract of this record is sent to the parents or guardians of such as are minors. The standard of perfection, whether in scholarship, punctuality, or deportment, is one hundred.

EXAMINATIONS.

At the close of each Term, all the classes are examined upon the studies pursued during that Term. The Examinations are public.

The Annual Examinations will be upon the studies of the entire Year, and the closing Examination of the Senior Class upon the entire Course.

The final examination of the Seniors is held four weeks before Commencement, from which time they are subject only to such duties as are required for their preparation for Graduation.

Candidates for Class Standing, other than those who have regularly pursued their studies at the Institution, are required to pass special Examinations, either at the beginning or ending of a Term, no one being eligible to such Examination who has not paid the Contingent Fee for that Term.

DEGREES IN COURSE.

The degree of Master of Arts is conferred upon every Bachelor of Arts of three years' standing, who has sustained a good moral character, and who has pursued professional or scientific studies during that period.

The degree of Master of Philosophy will be conferred, three years after graduation, upon all students who shall complete the Philosophical Course.

Diplomas are issued for these degrees when application is made, accompanied by the usual fee, five dollars.

C. G. CLOUD PRIZES.

Mr. C. G. Cloud, of the Class of '70, last year very generously gave seventy-five dollars to be awarded for excellence in Declamation. This sum was distributed into three prizes, as follows: First Prize, $35; Second Prize, $25; Third Prize, $15.

These were contended for at the Commencement of 1874-5 by four representatives from the Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior Classes, respectively, and by the decision of the Committee were awarded—

|---|---|
| First Prize, to . . . . . | A. W. Adkinson. |
| Second Prize, to . . . . . | T. A. Uzzell. |
| Third Prize, to . . . . . | Myrtle Nebeker. |

The same liberal friend gave twenty-five dollars to the Professor of Latin to be used by him for a prize fund. Competition for this prize was limited to the Freshman Class, to be awarded to that contestant presenting the best translation into Latin of the extract in Ridpath's United States History, extending from page 174 to page 179. The prize was divided by the committee, and awarded as follows:

|---|---|
| First Prize, $15, to . . . . . | W. M. Miller. |
| Second Prize, $10, to . . . . . | L. B. Salmans. |

COMMENCEMENT.

The last week of the Third Term is appropriated to the closing exercises of the Year, including the Annual Examinations, the Literary Exercises of the Societies, the Reunion and Literary Exercises of the Society of Alumni, the Baccalaureate Sermon, Annual Lecture, and the Graduating Exercises of the Senior Class.

LOCATION.

The Indiana Asbury University is located at Greencastle, forty miles west of Indianapolis, at the intersection of the Terre Haute and Richmond and the Indianapolis and St. Louis Railroads with the New Albany and Chicago Railroad.

The country about Greencastle is rolling, well timbered, well watered, fertile, and beautiful. The place is believed to be one of the most healthy west of the Alleghany Mountains. The people are intelligent, moral, and religious.

ENDOWMENT.

An attempt to endow the Institution, in its earlier history, by the sale of perpetual Scholarships at $500 each, and of limited Scholarships for sums varying with the number of years for which they were issued, having proved but partially successful, in 1844 a plan for permanent endowment, by the sale of perpetual Scholarships at $100 each, was projected. Efficient agents were appointed to carry out the plan. Up to the close of the year 1858, there had been collected, in cash and notes, for permanent endowment, about $75,000, of which over $67,000 have been profitably invested. Centenary donations added about $60,000 to this amount. In 1871, Robert Stockwell, Esq., of Lafayette, Indiana, gave $25,000 for the endowment of a Professorship. The Trustees, in honor of the generous donor, have selected Professor Wiley's Chair, and called it the "Robert Stockwell Chair of the Greek Language and Literature." In 1872, Robert Stockwell added to his former munificent gift $27,000; and again, last year, a third gift of $25,000 for the promotion of Biblical Education; making the sum total of his contributions to the Endowment Fund aggregate the handsome sum of $77,000. Means which promise success are still employed for steadily increasing the endowment.

THE NEW BUILDING.

The new College-building, the plan and specifications for which were furnished by Mr. J. A. Vrydagh, Architect, of Terre Haute, is a convenient, elegant, and tasteful structure, one hundred and twenty-six feet in length by ninety-four in width, four stories high, finished with Mansard roof, and ornamented by three handsome towers, showing variety and harmony in design and appearance.

The first story, or basement, contains seven rooms, twelve feet high, besides halls and furnace-rooms.

The second story, sixteen feet in height, is occupied by the halls of the three literary societies, and three recitation-rooms, with halls and reception-room.

The third floor is occupied mainly by the Chapel, fifty-four feet wide by ninety feet long, and forty-two feet high, with self-supporting gallery extending around three sides of the room. When finished, the Chapel will accommodate about fifteen hundred persons, and will be one of the most elegant audience-rooms in the West.

The fourth story comprises a suite of rooms that are eligible for library, cabinet, and recitation purposes, as the wants of the University may demand.

When completed, the actual cost of the building will be about $110,000. Thus far, about $75,000 have been expended.

Honorable mention is due to Jesse Meharry, Esq., of Shawnee Mound, Ind., for his liberal donation of $10,000 to the Building Fund; in recognition of which, the Board of Trustees, at their last regular meeting, ordered that the Chapel should hereafter be known and designated as Meharry Hall.

Early in last year, a Friend of Asbury proposed to give $1,000 if the new building could be occupied for Commencement Exercises. This proposition was promptly responded to by the Hon. W. C. DePauw, of New Albany, by a donation of $3,000, thereby insuring the occupancy of Meharry Hall for the Commencement of 1874.

In addition to the above, A. M. Lockridge, Esq., of Greencastle, has subscribed $3,000 to the Building Fund. Mrs. Senator Lane and sisters, of Crawfordsville, have furnished the means to finish the Elston Hall, for the use of the Philomathean Society, in honor of the memory of their father, Major Isaac Elston, formerly a member of the Board of Trustees. Colonel John W. Ray, of the Class of '48, has met the expense of finishing the Latin recitation-room; and C. W. Smith, Esq., Class of '67, has contributed similarly for one of the suite of rooms to be occupied by the Department of Natural Science. Special mention is also due D. L. Southard, Esq., resident Trustee, and member of the Building Committee, for his faithful, efficient, and disinterested labors, in superintending, directing, and advancing the progress of the work, and for his invaluable services in providing ways and means to continue the work, and without whose aid the new building would not, by any means, have been so nearly ready for occupancy.

During the present year, the following substantial advancement has been made toward the completion of the new building:

The Samuel Meharry Hall of Greek has been completed, by the donation of $500 by Rev. Samuel Meharry, of Shawnee Mound, Indiana.

Simeon Corey, Esq., of Terre Haute, Samuel Meharry, and Dr. John Simison, of Romney, have contributed $100 each to the Library Hall connected with this department.

D. G. Hamilton, Class of '65, has given $100 to furnish specimens of art for the Greek Library.

Contributions have likewise been made to this Library from Turkey, India, and China, by Revs. Buchtel, Robbins, and Walker.

The Chas. G. Downey Hall of Mathematics has been finished by the liberality of J. W. L. Slavens, Class of '59, and J. E. Downey, Esq., of Indianapolis.

The children of the Rev. Daniel DeMotte, the life-long friend of the University, desiring to honor his memory by a suitable testimonial, have furnished the Daniel DeMotte Hall of Mental and Moral Science, in the new building, for the use of the President of the University.

A second Hall, in the suite of rooms devoted to Natural Science, is in process of completion by donations from Dr. Ritter, of Indianapolis.

Hon. A. C. Downey, L.L. D., has generously contributed the sum of $500 for the completion of the Hall of Belles-Lettres and History, in the east wing of the new building.

At the recent reunion of the Alumni of the University, a sufficient amount was subscribed to finish the Alumni Hall of Modern Languages and Hebrew.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the University, accessible to students, number, in the aggregate, about ten thousand volumes.

The Whitcomb Library, the noble bequest of the late Governor Whitcomb, is an exceedingly valuable collection of books in every department of literature, having been selected by the lamented governor, in his later years, with the greatest care and discrimination. It numbers four thousand five hundred volumes, and is carefully arranged and preserved in a room devoted to this Library exclusively.

The College Circulating Library contains over three thousand well-selected volumes, mostly purchased with funds donated for that purpose.

The Libraries of the Literary Societies consist of selections made from time to time by the Society authorities, and purchased with funds derived partly from donations and partly from sessional revenues, it being the aim to devote annually a portion of the revenue to the continual improvement of the Libraries.

APPARATUS AND CABINET.

The Philosophical and Chemical Apparatus, though not of the most expensive kind, is sufficient for the illustration of the more important principles of Physical Science. It includes the usual requisites of the Chemical Laboratory; two Telescopes, by Henry Fitz; a Microscope, by Teutmayer, with Spectroscopic and Polarizing attachments; cylinder and plate Electrical Machines, inductive coils, air pump, meteorological instruments, and all of the common forms of physical apparatus.

The Dowling Cabinet, the gift of the late Dr. Dowling, of New Albany, is of itself an extensive and valuable collection of Minerals and Fossils. Combined, as it is, with a large collection of specimens, obtained by donation and exchange, the whole Cabinet furnishes much valuable aid in the studies of Mineralogy and Geology.

SOCIETIES.

There are four Literary Societies in connection with the University:

The Platonean, organized in 1838; library, one thousand volumes.

The Philological, organized in 1839; library, one thousand volumes.

The Philomathean, organized in 1870, consists exclusively of ladies; library, about five hundred volumes.

The Atlantis, organized in 1873, consists of ladies and gentlemen, all of whom are members of the regular University classes; has as yet only the beginning of a library.

The Theosophian is strictly a Society of Religious Inquiry. Its object is to provide facilities for theological discussion, and to promote true religious experience.

EXPENSES.

No charges are made by the University, except—

|---|---|
| Contingent Fee, | $4 00 |
| Graduating Fee, | 5 00 |

☞ Fees to be paid in advance.

BOARDING.

No arrangements for boarding students are made by the Institution. Boarding is readily obtained in private families at as moderate rates as circumstances will allow, and varying, according to the expensiveness of living, from $3.50 to $4.50 per week. In many cases, students board themselves. They rent a room suitably furnished, or sometimes furnish it themselves, and in this way reduce the expenses of boarding to $2.50, and in some instances to $1.50 per week. No student will be allowed to board at a public house.

N. B.—Several clubs have been organized, in which many have boarded well for about $2.25 per week, and with but little trouble.

INCIDENTAL EXPENSES.

The cost of clothing, traveling, etc., will vary considerably with the circumstances and habits of the student. A strict economy is best for all. As a general estimate, it may be stated that the whole expense of a young man in the University need not exceed from $200 to $300 per annum. All above the latter amount, it is believed, is very often worse than thrown away.

Parents having minor sons at the University are earnestly requested to select some friend in Greencastle to receive and disburse the money necessary for their support. If parents intrust it to their sons, they should not complain if it be squandered, or if consequences even more serious should ensue. The utmost vigilance on the part of the Faculty is insufficient to prevent the evils in question. These can be prevented only by putting the means of indulgence into the hands of a trusty friend, who will render regularly an account to the parent.

Preparatory Department.

The appropriations made by the Board of Trustees at their last session have enabled the Faculty to provide the means for ample and thorough preparation for College.

The Courses of study are equal to those pursued in the best High and Normal Schools.

The provision for instruction in the practical branches, Natural Science, Phonography, Telegraphy, Book-keeping, and Drawing, is specially adapted to meet the wants of students not desiring to complete a full course.

This Department is under the supervision of the Faculty, aided by competent instructors, who have had thorough experience in teaching, and are entirely familiar with the newest and best-approved methods.

Candidates must be at least twelve years old, and well grounded in the general principles of Modern Geography, English Grammar, and Arithmetic, in addition to Reading, Writing, and Orthography. Ample facilities are furnished to the students in this department for improvement in Composition and Declamation.

TELEGRAPHY.

Any student, who is regularly pursuing either of the courses of study indicated on the following pages, may receive thorough instruction in Telegraphy at no additional expense, except for the instrument he uses. An hour a day, for one college year, which need not interfere with other duties, will enable any intelligent student to take, by sound, from twenty-five to thirty words a minute.
